

Florence Lefebvre-Joud

Florence Lefebvre-Joud holds the position of deputy director of the Institute CEA-LITEN in charge of scientific activities. Graduated from “Grenoble Institut National Polytechnique” Engineer School, with a PhD and Habilitation from “Université Grenoble Alpes”, she has supervised researches and authored numerous publications in the field of Materials for Energy, with particular focus on Hydrogen production and conversion. She is member of several national and international scientific committees and evaluation panels in the field of Hydrogen and materials for renewable energies.